in minutes!

What is SR&ED?

The Scientific Research & Experimental Development (SR&ED) program, administered by the Canada Revenue Agency, provides cash refunds and tax credits to businesses that solve technical problems.

That includes:

- Improving products
- Fixing production issues
- Developing new processes
- Solving technical challenges

👉 If you're problem-solving in your business, you may qualify.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE?

You might qualify if your business:

- Tries to improve efficiency or reduce waste,
- Encounters technical challenges without clear solutions,
- Performs experiments, testing or prototyping; or,
- Invests time or money into development

Common industries:

- Manufacturing
- Engineering
- Construction & trades
- Technology

HOW WE HELP

We take care of your SR&ED claim from start to finish:

- Identify eligible work
- Gather and organize documentation
- Prepare and submit your claim
- Support you through CRA review if needed

We work alongside your accountant - not replace them.

No refund = no fee
